

Sociolinguistics and AI

University of Copenhagen · 19–21 August 2026

Newsletter · 9 July 2026

Dear conference participants,

Here's a brief newsletter with some updates about the conference.

Conference programme now available

We have been looking forward to sharing details about all the exciting contributions that have been accepted for presentation at the conference for a while. We are pleased to announce that the programme is now available from the conference website at <https://cip.ku.dk/english/projects-and-collaborations/ai-uni/slx-and-ai-2026/>.

We have done our very best to get everything right, but if you spot typos or other issues, please do not hesitate to get in touch. As always, you can reach us at ai-uni@hum.ku.dk. Most of us will be taking vacation or travelling for conferences in the coming weeks, so we may be a little slower than usual in responding to emails in July.

Book of abstracts ready in August

The book of abstracts will be ready on the conference website in the beginning of August.

Spread the word

This newsletter is sent to everyone who has registered for the conference. If you're a presenter and have co-presenters who have not (yet) signed up, please forward this email to them as we won't be contacting them directly.

The conference is open for all, but registration is required. The conference fee is €130. The fee includes all lunches and coffee breaks during the conference. Thanks to a conference grant from the Carlsberg Foundation, PhD students (and other students) may register at a reduced rate of €100. Registration is open until 10 August 2026 at 23:59 (CEST) via the online registration form on the conference website.

See you in August

We look very much forward to spending three exciting days in Copenhagen with you!

Best wishes, the conference organising committee,

Janus Mortensen, Sam Goodchild, Kasper Engholm Jelby, Jens Christian Borup Green Jensen, Sanne Larsen, Rafael Lomeu Gomes and Sofie E. Abrahamsen Søndergaard – the AI-UNI team